

2006 HAAGEN-SMIT CLEAN AIR AWARDS

Background

The California Environmental Protection Agency and the California Air Resources Board annually recognize and honor outstanding individuals who have made significant contributions toward improving air quality through their lifetime commitment, perseverance, leadership, and innovation, in areas of science, policy, technology, public education, or community service.

The selected individuals will be presented the Clean Air Award at the 2006 Haagen-Smit Symposium scheduled for May 8 through 11, 2006, at the Seascape Monterey Bay at Aptos, California.

Selection Process

Nominations will be reviewed by the Haagen-Smit Clean Air Award Selection Committee. The Committee will make the final selection of the two award winners.
